

Mile High Automation LLC awarded HAI 5-Star Dealer Status

March 13th, 2007

Mile High Automation LLC, based in Denver, Colorado, has been named to Home Automation Inc.'s Five-Star Dealer list. HAI announced the winners of its Five-Star Dealer program for 2007 on March 8th at their annual Dealer Appreciation Party held during the EH Expo in Orlando, FL. Winners were selected on the basis of sales volume, customer support and proven product expertise. This designation recognizes the top home automation dealers in the country.

Josh Ferguson, president of Mile High Automation, credits a loyal customer base, word of mouth and a growing demand for home automation products for the rapid increase in Mile High Automation's sales volume last year. "In a time of home automation companies that spring up and disappear overnight, our customers can rest assured that Mile High Automation is pulling ahead of the pack as an industry leader; we'll be around to offer our customers continued support for years to come," Ferguson explains.

Home Automation Inc., the nation's leading manufacturer of integrated automation and security products since 1985, is based in New Orleans. Though the factory sustained significant damage from Hurricane Katrina in 2005, HAI was able to quickly transfer its operations to a new facility in the area and last year was the company's most successful year ever. "The key to that success and growth has been the support of our dealers," says HAI President, Jay McLellan. "Thanks to them we're stronger and better than ever and the Five Star Dealer program is all about growing our businesses together."

314 companies were named as 2007 HAI Five-Star Dealers. HAI sells its products through a worldwide network of over one thousand distributors and dealers.